UNION, THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS—THE GUARDIANS OF OUR LIBERTIES.

Vol. XLVII. HILLSBOROUGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1868. No. 2443.

For the Hillsborough Recorder.

THE SEVENTY-FIRST COMMENCEMENT AT CHAPEL HILL.

"Hurrah! for the United States!! So said Senior Pearson.

"Hurrah! for North Carolina!!" So said Senior Morehead.

"Hurrah! for Orange County!!" So said Senior Strayhorn.

"Hurrah! for Chapel Hill!!" So another Senior ought to have said.

"Hurrah!! for the Ladies of Hillsborough!!!" So said all the boys at Chapel Hill; and they say besides, that all these young ladies shall not always belong to Hillsborough. The circular of the Law School at Hillsborough ought to be circulated freely among those who long to have, by the license of E. Freeman, S. C. C., the law to lay down to others, and, by the license of G. Laws, C. C. C., the law laid down by others. Their fathers tell the Seniors that it is hard times. But the Seniors tell their fathers that they intend to make them easy—as Adam did, by a helpmeet. Now then, Mr. Editor, because of the many smart things that have been said at Chapel Hill, which have given a chance for the many sweet things that are going to be said in Hillsborough, I say Hurrah for Chapel Hill, in Orange County, in North Carolina, in the United States, in America.

Some of the oldest attendants at Commencements were inclined to say to this last, "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all." The declamations of the Freshmen and Sophomores were more than usually acceptable. So that Gov. Seymour frequently declared that he had never heard better. Messrs. Britton, Gibson and Patterson of the Freshman Class, and Messrs. Buchanan, Leary, McKay and Winston of the Sophomore Class, were very prominent among eighteen good speakers.

But you must print the names of the speakers and of the speeches among the Seniors.

Latin Salutatory—W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Northampton County.

Andrew Jackson—W. Clarence Jones, of Wilcox County, Ala.

Thoughts, not swords, rule the world—C. Fetter, of Chapel Hill.

Pro patria—R. E. L. Morehead, of Greensborough.

Peter the Great—A. W. Graham, of Hillsborough.

Effects of the Reformation—W. D. Horner, of Granville County.

Orange County—I. R. Strayhorn, of Hillsborough.

Die macht der musik—J. W. Harper, of Lenoir County.

Poland—P. B. Means, of Babarrus County.

The Constitution and the Union—W. S. Pearson, of Morganton.

Valedictory Oration—F. H. Busbee, of Raleigh.

These were speeches none of which ranked below "good." There was no flummery about them; no fuss about "The influence of the Saracens on Literature" by some fellow who did not know a Saracen from a see-saw. And they were delivered with very good tate. Perhaps no two men would agree as to which, in manner and in matter, were the best. But an Orange county man may be permitted to say that Mr. Strayhorn ought to let you publish his speech; and a North Carolinian to confess that he heartily enjoyed the unusual applause that followed Mr. Morehead's appeal for North Carolina. One young lady wants to learn Latin, that she may see for herself that Mr. Burgwyn quoted Cicero aright in his compliment to the virgines, matronæ, &c.; it sounded so sweetly and was uttered so gracefully. And then, as for the Valedictory, some said it could not have been better. When the right to vote comes to the still oppressed portion of mankind, the part of that portion that was in the Chapel on Thursday afternoon intends to vote for Mr. Busbee, and to make the beaux of all but one vote for him too. They say this one has voted already.

Messrs. Burgwyn, Busbee and Morehead led their class in the matter of scholarship. Because Mr. Busbee had been uniformly "a first mite man" he was permitted to choose first among the honorary speeches, and to Mr. Burgwyn was assigned the second choice. Messrs. Harper, Pearson and A. Graham were declared second in the order of their names. The third honor was awarded to Messrs. Fetter, Horner, Jones and Strayhorn.

One sign of the troubles of times in which this class has passed through college may be seen in the fact that it contained at last representatives of seven different Freshmen classes, ranging from 1858 to 1864. Another, in that only Mr. Watson, of Chapel Hill, was permitted to attend the eight regular examinations of his class. The trials of June, 1865, were two severe for the nerves of the rest of the class of 1864. One sign of the excellence in scholarship and in deportment of this class, is seen in the fact that while their rule is to distinguish about one third of each class, the Faculty of the University felt obliged to give honors to more than half of these Seniors. Another is in the declaration made in the Annual Report to the Trustees, that in years, maturity of intellect and extent of attainments, this class was of more than average excellence. North Carolina needs now more than ever a succession of such classes at its University. We hope that she will have it.

The first mite men among the Juniors were Messrs. Porter of Tarborough, and J. M. Webb of Alamance county. Among the Sophomores, they were Messrs. Battle of Edgecombe county, R. H. Lewis of Tarborough, and R. H. Graves, Jr., of Williamsborough. Among the Freshmen, the first honour was given to Mr. Britton of Northampton county.

The Trustees present were Gov. Worth, Gov. Graham, Gov. Swain, Judge Ruffin, Judge Battle, Treasurer Battle, Hon. D. M. Barringer, P. C. Cameron, Esq., and Lawyers Carter, Phillips and Shober. It was the intention of the Trustees to remodel the University in many important particulars at this Commencement. But as the people of North Carolina have transferred the power to do so to other hands, the Trustees present, out of deference to their successors, merely resolved to ask the Faculty to continue their instructions for another session, and that the next setsion shall begin as usual on Friday, July 17th. Whoever takes charge of a University planned by such men as Judge Johnston, Judge Iredell, Dr. McCorkle, Gen. Davie, Col. Polk, and their worthy associates, watched over by such men as Judge Cameron, Judge Gaston, Dr. McPheeters, Dr. Hawks, Judge Badger, Gov. Morehead, Gov. Graham and Judge Ruffin, and taught by such men as Dr. Caldwell, Prof. Harris, Prof. Olmsted, Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Phillips, Dr. Hooper, Bishop Green, not to mention the present teachers, must be men of more than ordinary skill in planning, vigilence in watching, and faithfulness in teaching. One act in the drama at Chapel Hill is closed. Those who figured in its scenes are not ashamed of their record.

The weather for this most delightful week at Chapel Hill was most propitious; so that every one who was in the Chapel and elsewhere were at all times most comfortable, and ready to be pleased with all they saw and heard. Curiosity was wide awake to see the orator of the Philanthropic Society, the Hon. T. H. Seymour, formerly minister at the Court of St. Petersburg, and lately Governor of Connecticut. Gov. Seymour's voice was weak, so that many could not hear what they will read with delight, a timely, patriotic and thorough discussion of Government—its origin, forms, aims and dangers. The preacher before the Senior Class was the Rev. Mr. Moran, of the North Carolina Conference, who sustained his reputation for eloquence and metaphysical speculations by an exhaustive exhibition of the unity of the plan of Redemption, of the Historical fact that God has made and is making all things work together to manifest the excellence of His glory as it shines in the face of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Senatus Academicus conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on B. F. Moore, Esq., of Raleigh, and on Gov. Seymour of Conn.; and that of Doctor of Divinity on the Rev. Mr. Watson, of Wilmington, the Rev. Mr. Pritchard of Raleigh, and the Rev. Mr. Phillips of the University.

THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.

The farce of calling up the case of Jefferson Davis in the United States Court in Richmond, and then postponing it, is performed as regularly as the spring and fall sessions of the court occur. It is becoming by this time somewhat monotonous, and the public begin to look upon it as a bore, to say the least of it. The case is said to have been entirely ready at the late session of the court in Richmond, the venire summoned, the Chief Justice present, when it is postponed for five months. Mr. Davis has now been in the hands of the government three years, a considerable part of that time a prisoner. He is poor and in feeble health, with a dependent family, and is becoming old. Is it proper to subject this man for the rest of his natural life to such practical denial of his right to a trial? If, as seems probable, the trial will never occur, it would be both just and magnanimous to give him his discharge. But whether tried or not, no rational being now wants Mr. Davis's life; and as to the nonsense of making treason odious, which some indulge, had the rebellion in which he took part succeeded we would have heard nothing of treason, and failure, of itself, constitutes the most impressive and salutary punishment which can befall in such cases. To undertake at the end of so gigantac a struggle—a struggle in which the most earnest convictions in regard to great fundamental principles were involved—to seize upon an isolated individual and make him a victim, simply because he happened to be chosen by the many as their representative in the cause, is unworthy of the nineteenth century, and especially of the great American nation. We have too high an estimate of the people of the country to believe that any considerable portion of them have sympathy with it. Is there not courage somewhere among those who have the power, to give Mr. Davis his discharge? As did, for the time, the proposed impeachment of the President, the case of Mr. Davis hangs threateningly and forbidding in the sight of the people, and they would as gladly be rid of it as they were of the impeachment business. Calm wisdom and fortitude breasted the temporary passion of the hour in the one case; cannot they do it in the other, and pass us to that point in regard to the present "great criminal" when it will be universally said that "all's well," just as it was said in regard to the other "great criminal" whose trial so recently ended in acquittal? The probabilities are that if Mr. Davis should ever come to trial, under anything like fair and proper circumstances, he also will be acquitted of the technical charge brought against him.

Boys! Take Warning.—A clergyman says— "I one day passed by a blacksmith's shop, in which I saw the son of a lady of my acquaintance smoking a pipe. I went to his mother and told her what I had seen, and she very indignantly told me I must be mistaken. I said, I know your son as well as I know you, and if I had not been certain that it was he, I should not have called on you. She still persisted that I was mistaken, and was evidently annoyed at my interference.

"Some two years afterwards she called on me, and begged that I would try and do something for her son, saying, 'He smokes and drinks, and does everything else that is bad, and my heart is almost broken."

"Some two years ago,' I said, "I told you what I feared, and then something might have been done; but these habits are now confirmed. I will, however, do anything in my power. But I found it was in vain. In the course of a few years he blew out his brains, and left his widowed mother inconsolable at his destruction of both body and soul." Band of Hope Review.

HUMAN SKELETONS IN POMPEII.

Some of the details of these discoveries, contained in the journal of the excavations, are extremely curious and interesting. Thus, we read that on the 30th of August, 1787, a human skeleton was found in the corridor of a house which the volcanic matter had not penetrated, but had so completely closed up by obstructing the doors that escape was impossible. Here the wretched man lived in utter darkness we know not how long. It is a significant circumstance, that his bones, instead of lying in one place, were scattered about the apartment, and showed marks of having been gnawed. Near them lay the undisturbed skeleton of a dog. It is evident therefore, that the brute had not only survived his master, but had also eaten him. In a shop connected with the public baths, not far from the forum, were also found two skeletons of persons who had died in each other's embrace. They were both in the freshness of youth, and of different sex. The affecting spectacle excited an unwonted effusion of sentiment in the antiquarian bosom, and the bony twain were christianed "The Lovers." On the 14th of June, of the same year, eight skeletons were found under the ruins of a wall, and in May 1818, another skeleton was discovered near the Temple of Jupiter, crushed by a marble column; thus proving conclusively that the eruption was accompanied by an earthquake. In the Temple of Isis also were discovered the remains of several priests, with chicken bones, egg shells, wine goblets and other indications of a banquet, on a table near them. One of them had seized a sacrificial axe with which to effect his escape, but sank down exhausted, or probably suffocated by the mephitic vapor before accomplishing this purpose. The statement made by several writers, and reiterated by M. Mounier and Dr. Dyer, that the said priest actually cut his way through two walls, is entirely erroneous; the walls do not exhibit any traces of such operations. Tradition tells of another priest who lay in the centre of the adjacent forum triungulare. This man, whom Bulwer calls Calenus, was said to have been carrying off some of the rich silver furniture of the temple when death overtook him. As the journal makes no mention of the circumstances, the reader will receive the account cum grano salis.

THE BUD WORM.

Our friend Dr. Buie has been investigating the natural history and habits of this destructive little insect, with complete success. In April last he found a stalk of corn with the heart cut out by a bud worm, and the insect itself was buried about two inches in the ground beside the stalk. The Dr. took the worm and placed it in a glass jar, one-fourth filled with moist earth. Young stalks of corn, cabbage leaves and turnip tops were placed in this jar. The worm ate of each. After every eating the worm changed its appearance. It changed first to the "cut worm," which has been generally regarded as a different insect. Its next form was that of the "collard worm," its color, from black turning to geen, and its head disappearing. After eating the beg would return and remain in the earth. After this last change he went into the heart of the stalk of corn, until it was entirely destroyed, when becoming very unwieldy, it wollered, rather than burrowed, in the ground.

It remained it this state for five days, and on the sixth it had entirely shed its covering and was a fully developed moth, having four mings, the outer ones dark and the under unes light. Its appearance to us, as we saw it yesterday, is the same as the ordinary "candle moth," and is, beyond doubt, the same species of insect.

Dr. Buie will continue his investigations, and when completed will give the benefit of his discoveries to the public. Other insects which intest our gardens are also receiving his attention.

Late Lieut. M. F. Maury will soon come back to take his professorship in the Virginia Military Institute.

Hillsborough Recorder.

HILLSBOROUGH, N. C.

Wednesday, June 17, 1868

All those indebted to this office for subscriptions, advertisements, or job work, are earnestly requested to make immediate payment. Our necessities require it, and our advanced age admonishes us of the propriety of settling up our affairs.

Gen McDowell has formally assumed the command of the Fourth Military District, comprising Mississippi and Arkansas.

One hundred and twenty six citizens of Colorado have sent to the Senate a protest against the admission of that territory as a State—the population being too sparce, and the persons claiming Senatorship not being the choice of the people.

The bill for the admission of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana, as amended by the Senate, passed the House on Friday last. The bill for the admission of Arkansas had previously passed, and both bills are now before the President; but whether approved by him or not, the result will be the same, as his veto would be overcome by a two-thirds vote. The law as it passed will be found in another column.

A respected friend at Chapel Hill has sent us a pleasant notice of the doings there at the late commencement, the perusal of which we know will be gratifying to many of our readers.

The Magnificent Menagerie and Circus, as announced in our advertising columns, will be here on Friday next. It is spoken of as much superior to any that has been heretofore exhibited in this place, especially in its collection of rare wild Beasts and Birds of gorgeous plumage. Indeed the whole show is represented as possessing more than usual attractions.

MINISTER TO ENGLAND.—The President, on Friday last, transmitted to the Senate the nomination of the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland, to be Minister to England, which was promptly and unanimously confirmed by the Senate without the usual formality of reference to a committee. The National Intelligencer, in announcing this appointment, speaks in the following high terms of Mr. Johnson:

"The people of the country will cordially applaud this selection. None better could possibly have been made. Mr. Johnson has filled a large space in our public affairs for many years, as a Senator and Cabinet Minister. His professional rank as a jurist and advocate is seconed to that of no man in the country. And yet, though decided in his political views, Mr. Johnson's high tone and bearing have secured him the personal respect of both parties, so that he is in every proper sense a national representative.

"An unflinching patriot and lover of his own country, he is also a warm friend of peace and good relations with the great nation to which he is accredited. We believe that there is no one of our public men who could command more respect and influence among the English people than Mr. Johnson. He already enjoys a large personal acquaintance with their leading statesmen, among whom his exalted social position will command more than ordinary attention."

A PEACEFUL END.—It is impossible to read the accounts which have been published of the closing scene in the life of the venerable ex-President James Buchanan without being impressed with the evidences of a mind conscious of right in the discharge of all earthly obligations and imbued with unaffected religious reverence and resignation. The private virtues of Mr. Buchanan have never been questioned by his most embittered political opponents, which, unfortunately, is more than can be said of many distinguished public men. It is rare that such greatness of intellect and purity of life are combined in the public service. In peculiar harmony and keeping with a career thus characterized was the calm confidence expressed not long before his death that posterity would yet do justice to his fame where it had been misconstrued, and the serene and reverent spirit in which, expressing his life-long assurance of the Christian faith, he bade adieu to earth.

THE SIX-STATE SOUTHERN ADMISSION BILL.

The following is the text of the omnibus admission bill passed by the Senate on Wednesday night:

An act to admit the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida to representation in Congress.

Whereas the people of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida have, in pursuance of the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2d, 1867, and the acts supplementary thereto, framed constitutions of State government which are republican, and have adopted said constitutions by large majorities of the votes cast at the elections held for the ratification or rejection of the same; therefore—

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That each of the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida shall be entitled and admitted to representation in Congress as a State of the Union when the Legislature of such State shall have duly ratified the amendment to the constitution of the United States proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen, upon the following fundamental conditions: That the constitutions of neither of said States shall ever be so amended or changed as to deprive any citizen or class of citizens in the United States of the right to vote who are entitled to vote in said State by the constitution thereof herein recognized, except as a punishment for such crimes as are now felonies at common law, whereof they shall have been duly convicted under laws equally applicable to all the inhabitants of said States; provided that any alteration of said constitutions prospective in its effect, may be made in regard to time and place of residence of the voters; and the State of Georgia shall only be entitled and admitted to representation upon this further fundamental condition: that the first and third subdivisions of section seventeen of the fifth article of the constitution of said State, except the proviso to the first subdivision, shall be null and void, and that the General Assembly of said State, by solemn public act, shall declare the assent of the State to the foregoing fundamental condition.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That if the time fixed for the meeting of the Legislature of either of the said States by the convention thereof shall have passed, or shall have so nearly arrived before the passage of this act that there shall not be time for the Legislature to assemble at the time fixed by the convention of said State, such Legislature shall convene at the end of twenty days from the time this act takes effect, unless the Governor shall sooner convene the same.

Sec. 3. That the first section of this act shall take effect as to each State, except Georgia, when such State shall, by its Legislature, duly ratify article 14 of the amendments to the constitution of the United States proposed by the 39th Congress, and as to the State of Georgia, when it shall, in addition, give the assent of said State to the fundamental condition hereinbefore imposed upon the same; and thereupon the officers of each State, duly elected and qualified under the constitution thereof, shall be inaugurated without delay; but no person prohibited from holding office under the United States or under any State by section three of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States known as article 14 shall be deemed eligible to any office in either of said States, unless relieved from disability as provided in said amendment. And it is hereby made the duty of the President, within ten days after receiving official information of the ratification of said amendment by the Legislature of either of said States, to issue a proclamation announcing that fact.

A CASE OF DESERTION.—About 11 o'clock yesterday morning a well dressed white woman carrying a babe on Madison street, near Biddle street, accosted a little colored girl passing, and asked her to hold the infant for a few minutes. The girl consented, and the woman went off hastily. After long waiting, the woman not returning, the girl carried the child to her mother's house, whence it was conveyed to the western police station. Captain Zimmerman directed it to be taken to the Infant Asylum, on Division street. The unfortunate waif is apparently about eight months old, and showed great signs of neglect.

Inauguration of Southern State Officers.

Washington, June 9.—The bill which passed the House to-day to provide for the inauguratin of State officers in Arkansas, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alalabama, and for the meeting of the Legislatures of said States, provides in the first section that the Legislatures of each of the above States elected under the constitutions framed under the reconstruction laws, are authorized to meet on such day as may have been fixed, either in such constitution or by the proclamation of any officer authorized to convene such Legislature; and if no day shall have been passed, or shall have so nearly arrived before the passage of this act that in the opinion of the Governor elect there shall not be time for the Legislature to assemble on the day so fixed, such Legislature may be convened within thirty days after the passage of this act by the Governor elect of such State.

Section 2 enacts that whenever either of said States shall be admitted to representation in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of such State duly elected and qualified under the constitution thereof, and not disqualified by the constitution and laws of the United States, may be inaugurated without delay, and the government of such State shall thereupon be transferred to the civil authorities thereof.

Section 3 enacts that it shall be the duty of the civil and military officers exercising authority in either of said States to afford all practicable aid and protection to the officers of such State in carrying out the provisions of this act, and any officer wilfully withholding such aid or protection, or hindering or delaying the meeting of such Legislatures, or the inauguration of any State officer, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned not exceeding five years, or by fine, not exceeding $10,000, or both, at the discretion of the court.

THE PRESBYTERIAN REUNION.—The New York Sun notes the fact that the Old School and the New School Presbyterian General Assemblies have both agreed to accept the plan of reunion which has been under discussion in those bodies, and to submit it to the approval of the Presbyteries throughout the United States. The Editor says:

"There is but little doubt that this approval will be almost unanimously given, as the great mass of the denomination are in favor of healing the existing breach between its two principal divisions. Whether the smaller bodies, such as the Reformed and the United Presbyterians, will also consent in the movement is less certain; but even if they should decline to do so, the consolidation which will be effected will still be of immense importance, and highly gratifying to all lovers of peace and concord among Christian brethren."

RELIEF FROM DISABILITIES.—The New York Times continues to oppose the plan of relieving disabilities of Southern men in detail—man at a time—and recommends that some general enactment be adopted by which a sort of wholesale relief shall be granted, "as a means of obliterating some of the remaining traces of conflict and putting an end to the most plausible cause of discontent."

LIBEL SUIT.—It is stated by the friends of Senator Grimes that it is the intention of that gentleman to enter suit against the New York Tribune and Cincinnati Gazette for libel. The suit against the former will be based upon a charge in the Tribune that he voted for the acquittal of the President under corrupt influences, and against the latter on a charge that he was guilty of corruption while chairman of the committee on naval affairs during and since the late war.

A sad accident occurred at Winston on Sunday last. A mule attached to a wagon, in which the family of Col. J. E. Matthews was riding, took fright and ran away, throwing his wife and three children out. Mrs. Matthews and two of her children escaped, with only slight injury, but the other, a little girl about three years of age, was pitched forward, and one of the wheels of the wagon ran across her breast, killing her almost instantly.

WOOL CARDING MACHINES.

AT Guess's Mills six miles north of Durham's, are now ready for work, and the same experienced Cardar, Wm. C. Clayton that worked them last season will work them this season, and those having wool to card will do well to prepare it early, and prepare it well, and they may expect good work. The wool must be freed of all trash and burs, and well greased with one pound of grease to ten pounds of wool.

The following prices will be charged for carding wool; ten cents per pound for unmixed, and fifteen, for mixed, or one fifth part of the Wool.

We would take this method of returning our thanks to our friends for the very liberal patronage we received from them last season, and hope, by strict attention and good work, to merit a continuance of the same this season.

Agents Wanted for

THE OFFICIAL HISTORY

OF THE WAR,

Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results.

By HON. ALEXANDER STEPHENS.

A Book for all Sections and all Parties.

THIS great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with apparently similar productions, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has at last found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One Agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass, 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Ten. 106 subscribers in five days.

Send for Circulars and see our terms, and a full description of the work, with Press notices of advance sheets, &c.
